The Native Garden Contest will take place this summer, the sixth year it's been run by members of Green Towson Alliance. The purpose of the contest is to celebrate Towson gardeners who plant native plants in their yards. The University of Maryland Extension is emphasizing the use of native plants, shrubs and trees because they support pollinators - the butterflies, bees, and beneficial insects that pollinate the vegetables, fruits and grains that feed us. In addition, many native trees are the host plant for the butterflies that we enjoy seeing all summer. Monarch, swallowtails, and other butterflies lay their eggs only on specific plants because the caterpillars that hatch from their eggs can only digest those plants. We all know that Monarch butterflies lay their eggs on milkweed; in the same way, Zebra swallowtail butterflies only lay their eggs on our native Pawpaw trees, and the Baltimore Checkerspot butterfly can only lay its eggs on White Turtlehead. We hope to spread the word about the importance of native plants for our ecosystem through our contest.

We choose 3 winners of each contest in three categories, based on the size of the owner's yard. This year's contest will open for entries on Monday, June 8, and closes for new entries on July 7. You can see the winners from last year's contest, as well as the Finalists and Winners in the contests from 2021 through 2025. Towson neighbors can learn about the contest and how to enter on our contest website:

nativegardencontest.com In the past, we have highlighted some community gardens, and this year, any Towson business that grows and nurtures native plants and trees is welcome to enter the contest. The website will be updated regularly as the contest is underway this summer.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

Immaculate Conception School is excited to launch the ICS Community Partners Program for the 2026–2027 school year!

Who are we?

- Immaculate Conception School, located in the heart of Towson, is a 2024 National Blue Ribbon Catholic school educating children in Pre-K 3 through 8th grade.
- ICS has 420+ families committed to providing our 600+ students excellence in education.

Why become an ICS Community Partner?

- It's an easy and cost-effective opportunity to promote your local business to ICS school families and families of area visiting teams interested in your products and services.
- A display of your strong ties within the local community appeals to your target audience.

What are the benefits of being an ICS Community Partner?

- A 6' x 3' promotional banner will be displayed on the ICS athletic field, which is used heavily by school families and visiting teams on evenings and weekends during the fall soccer and spring lacrosse seasons. The athletic field is in use daily throughout the school year.
- Your logo, with a verified backlink to boost your online search visibility, will be on our website.
- The Community Partners pop-up poster featuring your logo will be displayed at multiple school-wide events throughout the year, reaching hundreds of families and visitors.
- ICS social media and our electronic newsletter will feature your logo and mentions of support.

Learn more about becoming an ICS Community Partner by scanning the QR code. Proceeds support a wide variety of initiatives integral to the student experience at Immaculate Conception School, promoting growth in Academics, Community, and Faith.
